OVERVIEW

Early this year, Garrett Electric began the expansion of a hamburger line facility for Tyson Fresh Meats, augmenting the basic design with functional custom solutions. When complete, the lower level of the facility will house a new state-of-the-art hamburger patty production line capable of producing roughly 60,000 lbs of hamburger per day and the upper level will provide additional office space. The facility will be responsible for providing products to all of the customer's West Coast locations, including Hawaii and Canada.
